From Yesterday's Second Edition.

BALTIMORE, Wednesday night.

Dates from Vera Cruz, to June 1st, have been received at Charleston, by the way of Havana.

The Consuls of the neutral nations, resident at Vera Cruz, had protested against the blockade of that port.

The Mexican Congress met on the 27th ult., Ex-President Bustamante, being appointed President of the same. It is generally believed he will be elected President.

It is said that Parades will march over to Matamoras, at the head of a strong army,—the largest portion composed of the body of troops, called the reserve. The time for his departure with this army, is already fixed, but has not been made public.

Gen. Bravo will occupy the Presidential chair, ad interim.

The suspension of payments continued, and things generally remain in the worst condition.

The Mexican government had called a meeting for the purpose of procuring resources, which was believed could hardly be obtained, as the clergy are not able to pay the amount of $90,000 monthly, already demanded by the government; and, on the other hand, the actual condition of the several States is not such as to expect from them any resources.

Gen. Taylor's son has left New Orleans for Matamoras, with his father's Brevet commission of Major General.

The lady of Capt. Paige, who was so severely wounded at the battle of Palo Alto, arrived at New Orleans on the 9th, on her way to Point Isabel, to meet her husband.

A letter published in the Delta from Pensacola, says, that it is reported that the condition of our squadron, in relation to that of the English fleet, which has been increased, is very precarious.

It is rumored that as soon as the English hear of the declaration of war against Mexico, it will be the signal for them to take possession of the whole Mexican coast; and that it is their intention to do so. If they do attempt it, look out for hard knocks. Although Com. Sloat's squadron is somewhat diminished by the return of old Ironsides to the United States, still he will, no doubt, when joined by Capt. Stockton, give a good account of himself.

The principal portion of the American fleet are now at Jalaverd; and the St. Mary's, Palmouth, and a small brig, are cruising before Tampico.

Mr. Walker has issued orders to grant clearances to Matamoras, thus throwing open Northern Mexico to American manufactures.

The Hon. Henry Middleton, who for many years represented us at the Court of St. Petersburg, died at Charleston on Sunday last.

Mr. McDuffie was elected Chairman of the committee on Foreign Relations.

The Treaty was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relation.

The Montreal Herald, of the 15th inst., says it is reported that the Cholera has made its appearance in Quebec.

—We are again under great obligations to our friend DUTTS, of the Massachusetts, for New York papers, in advance of the Mail, by which we are enabled to issue our Second Edition, in about forty minutes after the boat landed at her wharf, which is three-fourths of a mile from our Office.

AN ENGLISH FLEET IN THE GULF.—The following is an extract from a letter dated Halifax, June 8th:—

I learn that the frigate Endymion, 44, sloops of war Albatross and Hyacinth, and steamer Hermes, and others of the North American squadron, are ordered to the coast of Mexico. It is also reported that the Vindictive will sail immediately for the same destination.

STANZAS.

Written on Mount Hope Bay, Sunrise,
May 13, 1846.

BY WILLIAM H. CRANSTON.

The orient sky is shining bright
With morning's earliest beam,
While not a cloud is seen above—
No ripple on the stream:
Our noble bark moves swiftly on,
And hearts around are light,
But oh, a cloud rests on my brow,
And o'er my soul a blight.

Remembrance, faithful to her trust,
Waits back to other days,
When hope was rising in my soul,
Like yonder sun's bright rays;
I gazed on life's broad map, and felt
That sorrow's mournful shroud,
Could never check this youthful heart's
Pulsation in the crowd.

I trusted then to one so fair,
All filled with holy zeal,
That earth seemed but a paradise,
And I its favored guest;
The sacred vows which then we made,
On yonder rising hill,
Are penned in Heaven's high registry,
Approved by God's pure will.

The memory of those days will live,
Where'er my lot is cast,
And though in death all else is lost,
This, this, for ever will last;
And thou, fond idol of my heart,
Although we meet no more,
I worship still before thy shrine,
And thee alone adore!

I know not what has caused the change,
That o'er thy heart has come—
But art thou happy now within
The place thou callest home?
Am I deceived, or art thou still
The same devoted one,
As when we sat on yonder hill,
Upon that ancient stone?

Speak, dearest, once again, and say,
That thou art still the same—
And earth hath not a joy for me,
Save in thy cherished name!
But oh, if not, a dark career
Must through this life be mine,
And conscience will to thee exclaim—
"This fatal work is thine!"

SOCIAL INTERCOURSE.—We should make it a principle to extend the hand of fellowship to every man who discharges faithfully his duties, maintains good order; who manifests a deep interest in the welfare of general society; whose deportment is upright, and whose mind is intelligent, without stopping to ascertain whether he swings a hammer, or draws a thread. There is nothing so distant from all natural rule and natural claim, as the reluctant, the backward sympathy, the forced smile, the checked conversation, the hesitating compliance, the well off are too apt to manifest to those a little down; with whom in comparison of intellect and principles of virtue, they frequently sink into insignificance.

The New York legislature has abolished the warrant of distress for rent, and prohibited any lease to be hereafter made for a longer period than ten years.

SATURDAY, JUNE 20, 1846.

IMPORTANT DECISION.—A case of much importance to merchants was tried in the United States Circuit Court yesterday.—The facts were these: On the 28th of January, 1846, a Mr. Wheelock purchased a stock of goods of a Mr. Briggs, of Bristol, and gave several notes in payment, and secured them by mortgage on the same. The last of April, Wheelock went to Boston, and represented to Messrs. Johnson & Shannon, Dry Goods Merchants of that city, to whom he was a stranger, that he owed no one, except a small amount to Mr. Briggs, and that he had a surplus of twelve hundred dollars on hand, in his business operations; these facts he wrote in a book which Johnson & Shannon kept for that purpose, and signed his name to the same. On the strength of this, and further favorable representations made to them by Mr. Wheelock, Johnson & Shannon sold Wheelock a bill of goods amounting to about eight hundred dollars, on the usual credit; those goods arrived in Bristol about the first of April, and were placed in Wheelock's store. Immediately after this, he made a new mortgage of his stock, including that received from Johnson & Shannon, to Mr. Briggs; and in a day or two, he made a third mortgage on the whole stock, to Messrs. Hutchins & Anthony, of Providence, to secure a debt he owed them. A few days after, the execution of the last mortgage, Mr. Wheelock made an assignment of all his property, for the benefit of his creditors, to Viets G. Peck, of Bristol, subject to the mortgages which were already on the property.

This action of Trover was brought by Johnson & Shannon against Peck, the assignee, for the recovery of the goods purchased of them, and held by him, in his capacity aforesaid. The Plaintiffs contended that the goods were obtained by fraudulent representations on the part of Wheelock, and consequently the sale was void, and that under these circumstances, they were entitled to a verdict against the Defendant, for the amount of the bill of goods sold to Wheelock. They proved that at the time Wheelock obtained the goods of Johnson & Shannon, he was owing several houses in Providence, in all about one thousand dollars, in addition to the debt of about nineteen hundred dollars to Briggs, which was secured by mortgage.

The Defendant contended that although the Plaintiffs once owned the goods sued for, they had legally conveyed them to Wheelock, and had now no interest in them. They offered some testimony to show that a portion of the same goods had been sold; and also that Wheelock's wife kept a Millinery establishment, and that the articles made by her were put into the store, and also that some of the debts which Wheelock owed in Providence, were for articles sold his wife. But the Plaintiffs proved that Wheelock was generally present when these things were purchased by his wife, and knew that he owed these debts.

The Court charged that if these goods were legally sold and conveyed to Wheelock, by Johnson and Shannon, without fraudulent representations, then this action could not hold. But if the conveyance was illegal, and obtained by fraud, then the action would hold, in law. The Judge then went into a full explanation of the law on the subject, and defined the difference between a bona-fide, and a fraudulent sale, and the consequent liability of the Defendant. If a person obtains goods, by fraud, and then assigns or mortgages them, the assignee or mortgagee cannot hold them, because he or they pay no valuable consideration for them, and simply hold them, in trust, for a specific purpose. If the person has no legal interest in property, of course he can convey none, either to an assignee or a mortgagee. The jury were to enquire whether or not Wheelock obtained these goods of Johnson & Shannon, by fraud.—If the statements made by Wheelock were false, and were of a material and important nature, then they had all the material elements of fraud,—and were satisfied that Johnson & Shannon permitted the goods to be taken away, solely on such misrepresentations, then there was a fraud. And if such was the case, then the mortgages and assignees would be effected by the transaction.

The whole point in the case was this. If Wheelock obtained the goods of the Plaintiffs, by fraudulent statements, and they were in the dark on the subject, and placed implicit confidence in him, then there was a fraud, and the action would hold, and it was the province of the Jury to assess the damages. But if the goods were not obtained through fraud, and the Jury were satisfied that there were no misrepresentations to the Plaintiffs by Mr. Wheelock, then the action could not hold.

Gen. T. F. Carpenter, of Providence, and Lucius H. Chandler, Esq., of the Boston Bar, for the Plaintiffs; J. Russell Bullock, Esq., of Bristol, for Defendant.

The Jury, after an absence of ten minutes, returned a verdict of $700 and costs for the Plaintiffs.

We hear it stated that Weaver, of the Ocean House, is getting up a magnificent dinner for the Masons, on the 24th.—He is a whole souled fellow; and we know that he will spare no pains; it will eclipse everything of the kind ever served up in Newport before.

The U. S. Circuit Court adjourned yesterday noon, after having disposed of all the business on the Docket, to meet again according to law.

The bill for a Railroad from New York to Boston, before the Connecticut Legislature, after being vetoed by Governor Toucy, went back to the House, and passed by a vote of 113 to 81. It then went to the Senate. It is supposed it will become a law.

It was reported in Philadelphia on Thursday, that Jackson, the "American Deer," who ran a foot race against time on Monday, had died from the effects of his efforts to accomplish the feat.

A LONG CLOSE TASK.—The Delaware Republican says, that a young lady of Baltimore, Miss Margaret Hagan, has completed a quilt in which there are 27,000 pieces, none of them larger than a half-dime. It is all her own handiwork, and for three years most of her spare time was devoted to it. It took her two days to count the pieces.

Yesterday was an exceedingly warm and sultry day; this is the weather to bring along the strangers.

The performances at the Town Hall last evening, were of the very richest kind, and afforded great amusement to all present. We have rarely ever laughed so heartily and incessantly, as on that occasion. In fact, it was perfectly irresistible, for the delineations of character were so striking, and the comical and witty sayings of Mr. J. Fox were so appo, that it required more than human power to command one's visbles. While these plays amused all, they have a valuable and useful moral, which is well calculated to leave an impression on the mind.

New plays will be produced this evening, with entire new scenery, dresses, &c., and from what we know of them, have no hesitation in saying that it will be the richest entertainment that has recently been offered in this community. Be sure and go, one and all.

The report that the Mormons had attacked a body of California emigrants on the plains, and had killed Gov. Briggs and others, turns out, says the St. Louis Republican, as we expected it would, to be a hoax.

THE MEXICAN REVOLUTION.—We have been gratified by an interview with Mr. Dimond, our former Consul at Vera Cruz, who sailed from that city in the U. S. steamer, Mississippi on the 30th ult. Mr. D. informs us that Santa Anna's arrival was daily expected by many persons in Vera Cruz, and that the country was ripe for his reception. A plan of a new revolution had been published, based upon the Constitution of 1827, upon which it was supposed, the Federal and the Santa Anna parties would unite.—N. O. Picayune.

An Irishman, accused of marrying six wives, on being questioned how he could be such a hardened villain to delude so many, replied with great nonchalance, "why, please your worship, I was trying to get a good one!"

The two most precious things on this side of the grave, are reputation and life; but it is to be lamented that the most contemptible whisper may deprive us of the one, and the weakest weapon may deprive us of the other.

It is a singular fact, that notwithstanding the Oregon and Knickerbocker have been largely pulled by the press, and run on an old and popular route, the old line around the Point takes all the passengers. It must be that the old boats are deemed the safest, which we suspect is the fact.—Providence Gazette.

BY TO-DAY'S MAIL.

THE OREGON TREATY CONFIRMED!

The Oregon Treaty was confirmed on Thursday afternoon, by a vote of 41 to 11. The Senate was full—56 members being present; but Mr. Jarnagin declined to vote: the Legislature of Tennessee having instructed the Senators from that State to oppose any compromise.

The letter bag stolen from the steamboat Cincinnati, has been found in one of the staterooms of the boat, rifled of its contents. The occupants of the state-room continued on board until the boat arrived at Wheeling. They then left for a hotel, but one of them returned with a large box, stating that he meant to return to Cincinnati. He left the box on board, but was not seen again. On reaching Cincinnati, the box was broken open, and found to be filled with letters but rifled of their contents. The rogues are supposed to have gone east.

PURCHASED.—The steamers Undine and Big Hatchee, have been purchased by the U. S. Government to go to Matamoros, and will leave in a few days.—N. O. Pic.

The Middletown Railroad and Bridge Bill passed both Houses of the Connecticut Legislature, a second time, on Wednesday, and has become a law in spite of Gov. Toucy's veto.

The Connecticut Legislature adjourned on the 17th inst.

Gen. Gaines and Aid arrived at Washington Thursday evening.

Two hundred Indians encamped at St-Joseph, on their way to Fort Leavenworth, to volunteer with the Santa Fe expedition. The Mormons and Indians are committing depredations upon American property.

THE WAR WITH MEXICO.—The President in his message, on the subject of the government finances, sent in to the Senate on Tuesday, says, in relation to the Mexican war:—

"It is hoped that the war with Mexico, if vigorously prosecuted, as is contemplated, may be of short duration. I shall be at all times ready to conclude an honorable peace, whenever the Mexican government shall manifest a like disposition. The existing war has been rendered necessary by the acts of Mexico, and whenever that power shall be ready to do us justice, we shall be prepared to sheathe the sword, and tender to her the olive branch of peace."

THE GOLD SWORD.—It is in contemplation, by a number of citizens of Howard District, Baltimore, to present a gold sword to Lieut. Randolph Ridgely, who commanded the Light Artillery at the battle of Resaca de la Palma.
